90) Briefly explain why the ability to work effectively in teams is so important in business.

Answer:

Companies look for employees who work well in teams for a number of reasons, but primarily because successful teams improve productivity, creativity, employee involvement, and even job security. Teams also involve employees in company decision making through participative management.

Page Reference: 36

91) What are four potential disadvantages of working in teams?

Answer:

While teams yield numerous benefits, it is important to recognize the possible drawbacks of working in teams. (1) Groupthink occurs when team members value team harmony more than effective decision making. (2) Some team members may have hidden agendas that can impede the team's progress. (3) Free riders do not contribute to the team's work. (4) The cost of coordinating group activities can be unreasonably high.

92) Describe three functional team roles and discuss how these roles aid in achieving project goals.

Answer:

Functional roles = (1) Encouraging (drawing out other members by showing verbal and non-verbal support, praise, or agreement); (2) Harmonizing (reconciling differences among team members through mediation or by using humour to relieve tension); (3) Compromising (offering to yield on a point in the interest of reaching a mutually acceptable decision).

93) Describe three dysfunctional team roles and how these roles do NOT aid the team in achieving project goals.

Answer:

Dysfunctional roles = (1) Controlling (dominating others by exhibiting superiority or authority); (2) Withdrawing (Retiring from the team either by becoming silent or by refusing to deal with a particular aspect of the team's work); (3) Attention seeking (calling attention to oneself and demanding recognition from others). Possible alternate answer: Diverting (focusing the team's discussion on topics of interest to the individual rather than on those relevant to the task).

94) Discuss two advantages as well as two disadvantages of online meetings compared to face-to-face meetings.

Answer:

Advantages of online meetings = they can reach global participants quickly thus saving travel expenses; speed up teamwork due to not having to have everyone in one place at the same time (no travel, no waiting for a manager to return from a trip); includes body language cues; more personal and may be viewed as more sincere; participants can work from home or office or other location; group software tools enable quick edits and easy file sharing.

Disadvantages of online meetings = participants may not be tech-savvy and may have trouble installing or running software; participants may not be willing to be video-taped, recorded, or have their written words archived; without video in an online meeting participants lose body language cues; time zones may affect meeting times, participants may not have access to technology; cultural norms may prefer face-to-face meetings with handshakes or such.

95) As the leader of a new task force, you notice that one of your team members remains silent during meetings. What should you do?

Answer:

The team won't function to its potential if even one member doesn't contribute, and this individual may be tuning out without really knowing why. It would be important to encourage him or her to participate by asking questions such as, "You seem cool to this idea. Have I made some faulty assumptions?" or "You've done a lot of work in this area. What do you think?"

102) Discuss four strategies to use when planning an effective meeting.

Answer:

The first task is to decide whether the meeting will serve mostly informational or decision-making purposes, and whether it will achieve both. Next, meeting participants should be chosen carefully, limiting selections to those whose presence is absolutely essential. Then the location must be selected and reserved. Finally, the meeting planner should develop a suitable agenda and distribute it among the participants several days before the meeting.

103) Differentiate among the three primary types of listening.

Answer:

(1) Content listening focuses on understanding and retaining what the speaker is saying. (2) Critical listening, in contrast, is often more useful when the speaker is presenting an argument. In this type of listening, the listener's goal is to evaluate the message on various levels. (3) Empathic listening is most useful when a speaker is primarily interested in sharing feelings. In this case, the listener's goal is to appreciate the speaker's point of view (whether or not the listener agrees with it).

104) List and briefly explain three roles nonverbal communication plays in communication.

Answer:

The first role of nonverbal communication is complementing verbal language. Nonverbal signals can strengthen, weaken, or even replace verbal messages. The second role is revealing truth. It is much more difficult to deceive others with nonverbal signals than with verbal ones. Finally, nonverbal communication conveys information efficiently, since nonverbal signals can convey both nuance and rich amounts of information in an instant.
